Experience

Magento Front-End Developer

Inverse Paradox: April 2016 – Present

Within a small development team focusing on Magento 1 and Magento 2 webstores, I help develop custom themes for the frontend, and integrate third-party extensions. I also assist in debugging and fixing issues with our current webstores through Zendesk. I am also responsible for code deployment on many development and production environments through Beanstalk.

Front-End Engineer

Ebay Enterprise: February 2012 – March 2016

Worked closely with other developers, designers and project managers to help launch new e-commerce sites using our new CMS platform. I learned the inner workings of the new platform and brainstormed with other team members on ways to improve the platform to help future launches. Planned out documentation consisting of CSS3 implementation and setting up local sandbox development environments. Worked on implementing 3rd party modules on the Magento Enterprise platform as well as defect burndown and client support.

Web Content Production

QVC: November 2009 – December 2011

Maintained www.qvc.com using InfoPath, implementing HTML, CSS and JavaScript where needed. Built and maintained the commerce site website using IBM Management Center. Main developer for the Fashion meta for all immediate, current and future timed updates. Worked closely with Online Coordinators, Design and Copy teams for website content. Used PeRC to receive and send updates of website content. Attended meetings discussing road blocks and progress on the Commerce build. Assisted other developers with their metas.

Internship

Red Tetter: June 2009 – September 2009

I assisted the interactive team with building out pages from Photoshop comps, helped with Wordpress development and coordinated with account managers and clients.
